

Who Should Attend

The conference is oriented to combined themes of child, adolescent and family psychotherapies, psychological development from pregnancy up to adulthood and issues of policy that affect child and family mental health. The conference will be of benefit to all professionals who provide mental health and developmental services to infants, children, adolescents and parents and to those who influence policy and practices for families and the professionals who serve them.

Psychiatrists, Psychologists, Family Doctors, Social Workers, Child Protection Professionals, Teachers, Child and Family Psychotherapists, Policy Makers, etc